Walt Gillfillan Award

Nominations close February 23rd!

The Walt Gillfillan Award is presented annually at the UC Davis Aviation Noise and Emissions Symposium to an individual(s) or organization whose exemplary achievements and contributions in noise mitigation and/or emissions reduction in commercial or general aviation deserve recognition by their peers. The Award honors Walter (Walt) E. Gillfillan, who founded the Aviation Noise Symposium (now the Aviation Noise and Emissions Symposium) in 1985. This is a unique award in that there is no other similar recognition at any other academic institution or aviation environmental forum.
