Land Use Classification

Appendix A Land Use Classification

Though local agency codes define land uses for regulatory purposes, airport land use compatibility considerations sometimes require the classification of certain land uses into different categories than are customary for conventional land use planning. The land use attributes that may have airport compatibility implications warrant particular consideration.

The land uses identified in the land use classification system for this Airport Land Use Compatibility Plan (ALUCP) were derived and adapted from various sources including the City of San Diego Municipal Code and the San Diego Association of Governments (SANDAG).

Other sources of guidance on land use classification include:

- American Planning Association, Land-Based Classification Standards, <https://www.planning.org/lbcs>.
- US Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) <https://www.bls.gov/bls/naics.htm>.
- White, Mark S., Classifying and Defining Uses and Building Forms: Land-Use Coding for Zoning Regulations, Zoning Practice, No. 9, American Planning Association, September 2005.
- US Urban Renewal Administration, Bureau of Public Roads. Standard Land Use Coding Manual, US Government Printing Office, 1965.

This appendix delineates the types of uses that are contained within the broad categories listed in Chapter 2, Table 2-1, and Chapter 3, Table 3-1. In the following table, uses are listed by broad categories corresponding to the ALUCP use tables in the first column. Specific land use attributes or subsets of the broad categories are listed in the second column. The third column contains examples of the subsets.
